FACTS

WHAT DOES YAHOO DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION YOU PROVIDE WHEN USING TANDA?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Why?</th>
<th>This notice concerns how Yahoo will collect, use, and disclose your personal information related to your participation in Tanda (“your Tanda information”). Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| What? | The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:
- Social Security number
- transaction history and account transactions
- checking account information and wire transfer instructions
When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice. |
| How? | All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to run their everyday businesses. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies share their customers’ personal information; the reasons Yahoo chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing. |

Who are we

Who is providing this notice?
Yahoo

What we do

| How does Yahoo protect my personal information? | To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. |
| How does Yahoo collect my personal information? | We collect your personal information, for example, when you
- open an account and give us your contact information
- make deposits or withdrawals from your account and provide your account information
- show your government-issued ID
We also may collect your personal information from other companies. |
| Why can’t I limit all sharing? | Federal law gives you the right to limit only
- sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. |
